

Chinese Journal of Dental Research
Publication Policies and Ethics Statement

As a peer review journal, it is important for all the sides who are involved in publishing a manuscript, authors, editors, reviewers, publisher or the society as the journal sponsor, to agree with the following publication and ethics statement

Duties of editors

General duties:

Editors should be responsible for what was published in the journal and ensure its quality; should constantly improve the journal; should manage all the procedures on schedule for manuscripts; should deal with the questions from the authors, readers, reviewers, editorial committee members, and other related persons; should always be willing to publish corrections, clarifications and apologies when need.

Specific responsibilities:

Editors should select the submissions meet the journal's field and try the best to avoid those maybe involved in any kind of academic misconduct or plagiarism.

Editors' decision for a paper should be based only on the paper's quality and the peer reviewer's comments, not on any other factors. Editors should ensure the authors have a mechanism to appeal against the editorial decisions.

Editors should not reverse the decisions to accept decisions or over turn to publish a submission unless serious problems are identified.

Responsibilities of authors and reviewers

Authors should follow the guideline of the journal. Authors should declare the interest conflicts related to their studies and papers. Authors should statement of human and animal rights. Author should strictly avoid anything that maybe involved in plagiarism and academic misconduct in their studies and papers.

Reviewers should give comments on the base of fairness without any bias when they review submissions. Reviewers should provide professional comments only based on scientific perspective.